At Rosemont College we acknowledge the special abilities that you have gained. Professional, military, and other experiences can educate you in important ways that are not always reflected on a college transcript. You can earn college credit through a prior learning assessment, previous military or police academy training, as well as by taking College Level Examination Program (CLEP) exams.

Transfer Credit
Many adult students enrolling in our School of Professional Studies have earned academic credits at other institutions. If you have earned credits previously, the director of your program will assess your credits to determine which are eligible for transfer.

*For IBC employees only.
“As with anything in life, you get back what you give. One of the best things about my time at Rosemont was that I was forced to read and write outside of my comfort zone, and that makes for better work. I also appreciated the close-knit atmosphere of Rosemont’s MFA program, its acceptance of many different writing styles and visions, and its active reading series.”

Erin Entrada Kelly
MFA, Creative Writing, 2016
NY Times Best Selling Author, Newbery Medal Recipient, Rosemont Faculty Member
Haverford, PA

“Earning my Masters in Strategic Leadership has made me more marketable in the healthcare industry and has enabled me to pursue even greater career goals. Rosemont’s online classes not only allowed me to complete my degree, but also made it much easier for me to manage my schedule while working full-time and being a mother and wife.”
